Full course development for karting drivers

ANDERSEN RACING IS GETTING DRIVERS TO CONNECT TO THEIR RACING LIKE NEVER BEFORE.

The Andersen Racing staff in Palmetto Florida has dedicated themselves to the aspirations of young and talented racing drivers for years. Performance through Andersen Racing has shown these aspiring pilots success in multiple forms of open wheel racing, including US F2000, Star Formula Mazda, and even Firestone Indy Lights. Yet to truly connect with the career of an up-and-coming star in racing, Andersen Racing has to start at their very beginning.

Starting in April of 2009, Andersen Racing Owner Dan Andersen announced the formation of a first rate competitive karting team which would be organized nationally with regional sub-divisions. His first goal was to assure that his drivers were fully prepared for the rigors of career racecar driving, while showing the professionalism and stature that is the cornerstone of all Andersen Racing Teams.

From this goal alone, the Andersen Racing Competition Karting Camp was created. Structured toward focused, young, and talented individuals, this Andersen Racing Camp made its premier in the summer of 2009. Arriving drivers from around the country, the Andersen Racing Instructional staff put to work a curriculum that encompassed the requirements to becoming a true winning competitor. The young individuals who were the first to experience this unique program benefited so greatly that when they returned home to their racing schedules, their competitors, even their family members, were surprised to see a completely different driver!

Structured and individualized

AS LEARNING CHARACTERISTICS VARY, SO DOES THE INSTRUCTION

EVERY DRIVER IS ONE IN THEIR OWN

No one knows better than Andersen Racing how unique and identified every driver is. Staff instructors have developed an equally different approach to student instruction. We understand that chemistry can be a major factor in the developmental process of a young driver, so while we have a disciplined course outline and goals to achieve through the Andersen Racing Competition Camps, we stay adaptive enough to assure every driver is performing to the best of their abilities. Years of racing experience through Andersen Racing has yielded a great number of karting and racecar champions. Now we can bring those refined abilities to the roots of each competitor, made available in a camp format.

- Steepen the learning curve to recover better drivers
- Raise the bar and strengthen focus
- Build drive toward goals
- Achieve a winning record in highly competitive environments

EXPAND ON YOUR CORE KNOWLEDGE

BRAKING

Slowing a competition kart for corners may be considered elementary to some, and even less necessary than every other aspect related to winning habits. But we know this is far from true. An integral part to the Andersen Racing Karting Camp offering is a fully disciplined understanding to the advantages of proper braking. Drivers learn the terminology, the technique, and the application of competitive braking.

TIRE MANAGEMENT

Andersen RacePark is considered one of the most intense tarmacs known to karting tires in North America. The Andersen Racing course structure shows the importance of tire management on the part of the driver, and also how to fully exploit new tires for simulated qualifying drills

OVERTAKING

Stay out of trouble while making your way to the front of the pack! Andersen Racing employs techniques for passing that gives drivers the confidence to race with any competitor, in any environment. Specified drills with instructors on track helps accelerate each driver's understanding and ultimate satisfaction in knowing what most others don't – how to race assertive and stay clean.

NO ACTION WITHOUT COURSE

Enrolling in an Andersen Racing Competition Karting Course gives drivers the resources to understand reasoning behind the decisions made to improve on track performance. Every moment spent within this course is fully immersed in the classroom or on the track. Every student of Andersen Racing has both knowledge and logistical understanding of their own competitive abilities.

OVERSIGHT TO EVERY DETAIL

Due to the highly competitive nature of the Andersen Racing staff, no detail in every step is left without sharp direction. By employing equipment only used by Andersen Racing Team Drivers, students can expect the best high performance experience available.

Camp participants can also see the direct benefits from maintenance programs used by Team Andersen Drivers today. We keep close eyes and helping hands close by as Camp participants fully dissect their racing machines every day in racing-standard preparation.

- Full motor preparation and inspection
- Chassis inspection and alignment from twist
- Front end geometry oversight, adjustment by drivers
- Braking system inspection and maintenance
- Organization of environment
- Developed routines for more optimized efficiency
- Cleanliness and professionalism – driving equipment
